“The Challenge of Alzheimer’s”

Alzheimer’s affects people in varying ways and ripples out to impact the lives of those who interact with them. Understanding what is happening to a person with Alzheimer’s is key to interacting effectively and providing quality care.

Increasing our knowledge about causes of dementia-related behaviors can decrease our stress and expand our ability to respond effectively to challenging situations, to explore creative interventions that can transform chaotic challenges into constructive outcomes.

This presentation will summarize what we currently know about the disease, including the signs and symptoms that lead to diagnosis, risk factors, treatment, and important things to remember when relating to the person with Alzheimer’s.

Please Forward and/or Post This Invitation for Others Who May be Interested
